

Vladimer Papava (born March 25, 1955) is a Professor of Economics at the Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University, an Academician at the Georgian National Academy of Sciences (2013) and the former Rector of the Ivane Javakhishvili Tbilisi State University (August 16, 2013 - April 20, 2016).

Born in Tbilisi, Georgia, Vladimer Papava graduated Tbilisi State University (with a specialization in Economic Cybernetics) in 1978. He received his Candidate of Science degree in Economics (PhD) from the Central Economic Mathematical Institute of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR, Moscow, in 1982, and his Doctor of Science degree in Economics from Tbilisi State University in 1989 and Leningrad State University in 1990.

In 2005-2006 he was a Visiting Scholar at the Central Asia-Caucasus Institute, the Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University. He is the author of more than 300 publications, including many works on the theoretical and applied studies on post-Communist economies and the economic development of the Central Caucasus countries. His research efforts are underpinned by practical experience gained during his work for the Georgian Government: from 1994 to 2000, as Minister of Economy, he was actively involved in currency reform, the liberalization of the economy, including the liberalization of foreign trade, institutional transformations and other ambitious governmental programs. As a member of the Georgian Government and an Alternative Governor of the World Bank, he was one of the main participants in the negotiations with the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. From 2004 to 2008 he was a Member of the Parliament of Georgia (Committee for Finance and Budget).

Vladimer Papava is the author of the Semi-Productive Matrix Approach for Input-Output Models, The Theory of the Economic Ability of the Government and Egalitarian Goods, The Model of an 'Economy Without Taxes,' The Theory of Laffer-Keynesian Synthesis, The Theory of the 'Shadow Political Economy' (with Nodar Khaduri), The Indexes of Tax Corruption, The Method of Measuring of the Catch-Up Effect, The Method of the 'Social Promotion' for Post-Communist Transition to a Market Economy, The Doctrine of Market Equality and its Application to the Process of Post-Communist Transformation.

Vladimer Papava is also the author of the Theory of 'Necroeconomics' – The Political Economy of Post-Communist Capitalism and 'Retroeconomics' – the Theory of Moving from Dying to Brisk Economy.

Vladimer Papava (with Eldar Ismailov) elaborated the geopolitical Concept of the Central Caucasus. He also is an author of the geopolitical Concept of the Central Caucaso-Asia.

Vladimer Papava is a Member of the Editorial Boards of the Problems of Economic Transition (USA), Journal of Business and Economics (USA), Mega Journal of Business Research (USA), Central Asia and the Caucasus (Sweden), European Journal of Economic Studies (Slovak Republic), Caucasian Review of International Affairs (Germany), Transformations (Poland), Economy of Ukraine (Ukraine), Society and Economy (Russia), and Finance: Theory and Practice

(Russia). In 1992-2005 he was the Chief-Editor of the Proceedings of the Georgian Academy of Sciences – Economic Series.

From 1997 Vladimer Papava has been a Corresponding Member of the Georgian National Academy of Sciences and an Active Member (Academician) since 2013. He is an Active Member of the International Academy of Sciences, Education, Industry and Arts (CA, USA), an Active Member of the New York Academy of Sciences (NY, USA), an Active Member of the International Informatization Academy (UN) and other international societies and associations. In 2008-2010 he was the Deputy Chairman of the Scientific Committee for Economics and Law of the Georgian National Academy of Sciences; from 2010 he has been the Chairman of the Scientific Committee for Economics of the Georgian National Academy of Sciences; from 2007 he has been a Member of the CASE (Center for Social and Economic Research) Advisory Council (Warsaw, Poland) and a Member of the International Scientific Council of the International Institute for Social Development (Moscow, Russia). He is also a member of the Tbilisi-based think-tank Georgian Foundation for Strategic and International Studies.

In 2004 Vladimer Papava together with a group of Georgian economists was awarded the State Prize of Georgia in Science for the Series of Publications – The Methods and Models of Macroeconomic Regulations.

In 2008 Vladimer Papava was awarded the Philippe Gogichaishvili Prize of the National Academy of Sciences of Georgia for the book – Necroeconomics: The Political Economy of Post-Communist Capitalism (New York, iUniverse, 2005).
